Sam Minks is a Scout Dad with one son, Connor, a Star Scout. He knew Scouting was making a difference in their lives, but never imagined the impact it would really make. Sam recently attended Woodbadge training and is shown here during his beading ceremony…made even more special by his son’s leadership. Sam is one proud Scout Dad.

“Scouting represents all that is best about being a kid. Woodbadge was not only an opportunity to relive being a boy at camp, but I have gained wonderful new friends and an intensified drive to provide the current generation of Scouts with the same great memories I carry with me.”

ON MY HONOR I WILL DO MY BEST.

It begins with an oath and a personal commitment, to build character. For nearly 100 years, the Pikes Peak Council, BSA has helped shape young people, to build future leaders for tomorrow.
